

WL GAUGE CUTTER

The RMZ Wireline Gauge Cutter is predominantly used for drifting the tubing string but also designed to remove scale, debris, paraffin wax etc. this will ensure that down hole tools will pass through tubing and nipples without obstruction during wireline operations.

Application

- Used to Drift the tubing
- Used to remove scale, debris, paraffin wax.

Features & Benefits

- Supplied in a range of sizes – various length & diameters available on request
- Tapered design available on request.
- Tools for sour service (H2S) available upon customer request.

WL GAUGE CUTTER

